Dear Friends,

By now, you have probably heard the reports, and seen the footage of the earthquake in Taiwan. We are unharmed. Thank you for your kind concern and prayers. The majority of the damage occurred in Tainan. This catastrophe is now suspected to have been exacerbated by the structural deficiencies of the buildings that fell. Though some see the earthquake as "God's hand," I believe that God has been very merciful through these events. Praise The Lord for sustaining this world we live in, giving us space to repent, despite our sin's offensiveness and harmfulness. (Luke 13:3-5)

The Lord has been very gracious this month, giving us the opportunity to teach another two individuals about Him. I met "Jimmy" through our friends in Kaohsiung. Jimmy visited the church there and was interested in studying The Bible. We have now had several lessons, and he has invited a friend whose name is "Kathy." They are at different places in their understanding of The Lord, and His works, though they both profess to be "Christians." I also perceive that they believe different things about The Bible, and so it has been a challenge teaching them together. I have had one lesson with Jimmy alone. He receives the teachings of The Bible, and looks for scriptural answers rather than answers that appeal to human reason. He is also evangelistic. The current challenge is letting go of popular false teachings in order to receive true Bible teachings.

Thank you for praying for Melody, she continues to come faithfully to her lessons. Melody understands what I've taught. As the lessons become more focused on The Lord Jesus Christ, and elaborate more on repentance and faith, please pray that Melody would continue along this path towards The Light and Truth, and not reject these teachings nor dismiss them as fables.

Thank you for praying for Alex. Alex has grown so much over the last several months. Of all my students, he is probably the most fascinated by the works of The Lord, which encourages me greatly. He is at a crossroads now in his young life, so please pray that he would make wise decisions regarding his future.

Thank you for praying for George. George thoroughly enjoys his studies, and has even continued this week, though it is Chinese New Year. George readily receives monotheism, which is tremendous; please pray for us as we work towards establishing the character and identity of the One True and Living God.

Thank you for praying for me and my family. We have spent a good majority of last month ill, but are now beginning to recover. Please pray that we would continue to get well, and that we would enjoy the time we have to spend with family during Chinese New Year. Thank you once again for your prayers and support on our behalf.

A servant,
Bro. Evan
